

Berlin Program for Advanced German and European Studies

Fellows 1996 - 1997, 11th Cohort

Alon Confino (postdoc) history University of Virginia	Immaterial Consumer Goods: Tourism and the Commercialization of the Past in Germany, 1900-1990
Arthur Daemrlich science & technology studies Cornell University	Pharmaceutical Regulation: The Science and Politics of Health in Germany and the US
Timothy Dowling history Tulane University	Stalinstadt: A Model for Life in East Germany
Elizabeth Drummond history Georgetown University	German and Polish Protective Societies before World War I
Robert Kahn political science Johns Hopkins University	National Legal Cultures, Structures, and Rights Protection: Holocaust Denial and the Law in Germany
Mark Landsman history Columbia University	From Plan to Purchase: Consumption in East Germany, 1945-71
Eli Nathans history Johns Hopkins University	Drawing the Boundaries of the National Community in Germany: 1871-1933
Bradden Weaver political science Yale University	Party Organization and Elite Recruitment in the New Federal Länder
Caroline Wiedmer (postdoc) German studies University of Washington	Reconstruction Sites
Jeffrey Wilson history University of Michigan	Nature and Nation: Environment and National Identity in Germany, 1848-1914