

BERLIN PROGRAM

for Advanced German & European Studies

Forschungskolloquium im Sommersemester 2001

Leitung: Prof. Dr. Gisela Bock, FU Berlin, Friedrich-Meinecke-Institut, Neuere Geschichte
Prof. Dr. Albert Wirz, HU Berlin, Institut für Asien- und Afrikawissenschaft

Ort: Seminarraum, Garystr. 45, 14195 Berlin

Zeit: jeden zweiten Dienstag, 17–19 Uhr c.t. (Abweichungen siehe unten) Änderungen vorbehalten

- | | |
|------------------------------|--|
| 24.04.01
15.30 Uhr | Empfang und Vorstellung der Stipendiat*innen
Gespräch mit Prof. Dr. Robert Leicht, Die Zeit
Unterschiedliche Konzeptionen der europäischen Integration |
| 08.05.01
16 Uhr | Professor Joyce Appleby, Professor of History, UCLA
Telling the Truth about History. Historiography and Cultural Conflict in the United States since the 1950s
Ort: John F. Kennedy-Institut, Raum 340, Lansstr.5-9, U-Bahnhof Dahlem-Dorf |
| 22.05.01 | Johannes von Moltke, University of Michigan, German/Film Studies (postdoc)
No Place Like Home: Topographies of Modernity in the German Heimatfilm |
| 05.06.01 | David Tompkins, Columbia University, Department of History
The Politics of Music in the GDR and Poland: Composers and the Party, 1948–1956 |
| 19.06.01 | Anita I. Drever, University of California, Los Angeles, Department of Geography
Separate Spaces, Separate Outcomes? A comparative study of the impact of segregation on minorities in Germany and the United States |
| 03.07.01 | Ari Sammartino, University of Michigan, Department of History
„Alles blickt nach Osten“: The German Revolution, the Russian Revolution and the Image of Russia in Germany

Mary Fechner, University of Oregon, Department of Anthropology
A Change of Heart: A Cultural Study of Heart Disease in Post-Socialist Germany |
| 17.07.01 | Steven Gardiner, Cornell University, Department of Anthropology
The Changing Role of Military Service in German Society |