

BERLIN PROGRAM

for Advanced German & European Studies

Forschungskolloquium im Sommersemester 2018

Leitung: Prof. Dr. Mary Lindemann, University of Miami / GSA
Prof. Dr. Paul Nolte, Freie Universität Berlin

Ort: Raum 009, Ehrenbergstr. 26/28, 14195 Berlin

Zeit: montags 16–18 Uhr (Abweichungen siehe unten)

Änderungen vorbehalten

16.04.18 Michael Skalski, UNC Chapel Hill, History
A Socialist Neighborhood: Consequences of Crossing Borders between East Germany, Poland, and Czechoslovakia, 1968–1989
(Kommentar: Nina Kapuza)

30.04.18 Nina Kapuza, Boston University, History
Navigating Divergent Paths, German-American Intermediaries in the World War I Period
(Kommentar: Scott Krause)

14.05.18 Douglas Bell, Texas A&M University, History
Occupying Nature: Germans, Americans, and the Environment, 1945–1955
(Kommentar: Matthew Sohm)

28.05.18 Dalton Benson, University of Iowa, History
German Anthropology and the Making of Modern Mexico, 1876–1940
(Kommentar: Maureen Gallagher)

04.06.18 Christina Gerhardt, University of Hawai'i at Manoa
18–20 Uhr Screening the Red Army Faction: Historical and Cultural Memory

11.06.18 Noelle Rettig, Georgetown University, German Literature
From Aesthetic to Pathology: Reading Literary Case Studies of Melancholy, 1775–1850
(Kommentar: Marlo Burks)

18.06.18 GSA Distinguished Lecture 2018
18–21 Uhr Glenn Penny, The University of Iowa/Wissenschaftskolleg zu Berlin

25.06.18 Christy Wahl, Univ. of Wisc. at Madison, Art History
Dada's Exile and Recuperation: The Works of Hannah Hoeh in Political Context
(Kommentar: Noelle Rettig)

27.–29.06.18 Summer Workshop 2018
Strange Bedfellows / Unexpected Allies

16.07.18 Abschlussdiskussion & Grillen im Garten