

BERLIN PROGRAM

for Advanced German & European Studies

Forschungskolloquium im Sommersemester 2023

Leitung: Prof. Dr. Paul Nolte, Friedrich-Meinecke-Institut, FU Berlin

Ort: Raum 009, Ehrenbergstr. 26/28, 14195 Berlin

Zeit: montags, 17–19 Uhr (Abweichungen siehe unten)

Änderungen vorbehalten

17.04.23	Vorstellung der Stipendiat*innen
24.04.23	Clemens Finkelstein, Princeton University, History and Theory of Architecture Architectures of Vibration: Environmental Control, Sismic Technology, and the Frequency of Life, 1898–1944 (Kommentar: Paul Kurek)
08.05.23	Marisol Bayona Roman, The University of Texas at Austin, Germanic Studies The Difference Between a Break and a Breakdown: Life and Work in Twenty-First-Century German-Language Novels (Kommentar: Sophie Duvernoy)
22.05.23	Till Knobloch, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, History The Human Element in Diplomacy (Kommentar: Sloane Nilsen)
05.06.23	Sarah Wheat, University of Michigan, History of Art Commoditizing the Harem Mystique: Orientalism and Popular Architecture ca. 1900 (Kommentar: Clemens Finkelstein)
12.06.23	Workshop: Alexander Petrussek, Rutgers University Getting Ready for the Academic Job Market
19.06.23	Johnathon Speed, Vanderbilt University, History The Swabian Children and Public Welfare in the Eastern Alps (Kommentar: Dillon Banis)
03.07.23	Sloane Nilsen, University of California, Berkeley, History Nazi Nights: A Time of Spectacle and Terror (1933–1939) (Kommentar: Marisol Bayona Roman & Mimi Cheng)
Mi 05.07.23 – Fr 07.07.23	Summer Workshop 2022 Crisis and Transformation
17.07.23	Mimi Cheng, University of Rochester, Visual Studies Charting a Cartographic Impulse: Art, Science, and Technology in German Jiaozhou (Kommentar: Sarah Wheat)