

University Alliance for Sustainability

Call for proposals for research and study stays 2015 in the field of sustainability at

Peking University, China (PKU)

Hebrew University of Jerusalem, Israel (HUJI)

University of British Columbia, Canada (UBC)

St. Petersburg State University, Russia (SPbU)

One of the key components of Freie Universität's internationalization strategy is to establish Strategic Partnerships with a number of leading international research universities. Within the framework of the new "University Alliance for Sustainability," Freie Universität Berlin, together with its four strategic partners, will focus on sustainability as a comprehensive topic for collaborating in research, teaching, and campus management.

The University Alliance for Sustainability will use the partners' complementary strengths to develop joint research and teaching projects, offer exchange options for faculty, staff, and students, and foster inter-institutional learning with regard to management issues. Funding will also be available for research stays for researchers, summer schools for PhD students, conferences on the topic of "Green Campus" for management personnel, and several study and internship abroad options.

For 2015, the University Alliance for Sustainability will offer the following exchange schemes for study and research stays at the four partner universities under the thematic framework of "Education for Sustainable Development". Please note that the exchanges have to be completed in 2015, a separate call for 2016 will be published later this year.

The four partners will also release a call for applications for study and research stays at Freie Universität Berlin. If you would like to invite someone from the partner universities for activities 2 - 4, please direct them to the call at their respective university for possible funding.
