Application for reimbursement of the publication fee

I, as corresponding or submitting author hereby apply for funding of an open access journal article from the publication fund of Freie Universität Berlin for the following publication (please provide the following data: authors, title, journal, year):

The article fulfills requirements of the German Science Foundation (DFG):

The article is published in a journal that makes all articles available over the internet to users free of charge as soon as they appear ("genuine open access journal").

The article is not published in a subscription-based journal according to an "open choice model" see also <http://www.springer.com/de/open-access/springer-open-choice>

The open access journal in which the article is published has quality assurance procedures in place ("peer review").

As a "submitting" or "corresponding author" I am responsible for payment of the publication fee and I am affiliated to the Freie Universität Berlin.

The publication fee has not been covered through third-party project funds.

Article processing charge can only be covered or reimbursed if it does not exceed the maximum of 2.000,- EUR incl. VAT per article.

I certify that the invoice payment and financial settlement with the publisher has already been done.

Furthermore the costs will not be or have not been already reimbursed from another source.

The article was published in _____ in an open access journal which fulfills the above mentioned requirements.

☐ I will deposit the article immediately in Refubium.
