THE ROAD FROM WAR TO PEACE, MORE DEMOCRACY and EUROPEAN INTEGRATION

Ice Breaker Event

Monday, 2 July 2018

Berlin's Liaison Office to the EU, Avenue Michel-Ange 71, 1000 Brussels

The cultural heritage of Europe is manifold. Historical sites and archives as keeper and reminder of the past play an important role in the shaping of European heritage and the shared perception of Europe's past, present and future. Wars in particular were mighty drivers of the course of European history and, thus are an integral part of Europe's heritage. They stand at the beginning of Europe's development from a divided to a united continent.

During our discussion, we will concentrate on the causes and consequences of the First World War and tackle the challenges of a European approach to the commemoration of the wars and how we can include the youth in this discourse.

This event takes place on the eve of the conference THE ROAD FROM WAR TO PEACE, MORE DEMOCRACY and EUROPEAN INTEGRATION on 3 July, to be held at the Museum of European History. The conference is co-organized by ERRIN and part of a series of events in the framework of the European Year of Cultural heritage.
