

The German Science Days 2016

for Outstanding Egyptian Doctoral and Postdoctoral Candidates

Saturday, 28 May 2016

By Registration only

|       |   |  |
|-------|---|--|
| 9:00  | Registration  |  |
| 10:00 | Panel Discussion: «Doing Research at German Universities» – FAQ Panel regarding Research in Germany   |  |
| 11:00 | Prof. Dr. Jürgen Handke, Philipps Universität Marburg«Teaching and Learning in the 21st Century»  | Dr. Ezzeldin Metwalli, Technical University Munich«Nanomaterials in motion: Real-time science»   |
| 12:00 | Prof. Dr. Emad Aziz, Freie Universität Berlin«Future Graduate School Between Berlin and Cairo: Fundamentals of Energy Conversion Processes – FECPro –»  | Prof. Dr. Rudolf Schaefer, Technische Universität Berlin«Urban Lab El Gouna - Applied Research in the Fields of Urban Development, Energy and Water Engineering»                               |
| 13:00 | Akram Abdellatif, Technical University Munich«Space Technology in Germany and how to get involved»  | Prof. Dr. Christine Knaevelsrud, Freie Universität Berlin«Web-based psychological interventions for traumatized individuals in regions of violent conflicts: a Berlin-Alexandrian cooperation» |
| 14:00 | Dr. Niels Klabunde, Technische Universität Berlin«Doing Your PhD or Postdoc at TU Berlin»   | Prof. Dr. Mohammad Farzanegan, Philipps Universität Marburg«More Oil, Less Education Quality? – New Empirical Evidence»  |
| 15:00 | Dr. Hassan El-Mouelhi, Technische Universität Berlin«TU Berlin and Urban Development Research in Egypt: insights from an Egyptian scholar at TU Berlin» | Prof. Dr. Moemen Hanafy, The Honorary Ambassador Scientist in Cairo, Alexander von Humboldt FoundationInformation Session on Funding Opportunities for Post Docs                               |
| 16:00 | DAAD Cairo Office Information Session   |  |

MARKETPLACE
of the Information Booths